

HYDRANGEAS FOR THE GARDEN with Susan B. Viemeister and Foxie Morgan

Tuesday, July 10th
9:45 a.m.- 1:00 p.m.

We will be offering the class in two parts this year.

Hydrangeas are an important plant here at Pharsalia. These hardy flowering shrubs not only add interest and structure to the ornamental beds, they are also an important crop for Pharsalia's cut flower business. By using different Hydrangea species you can have successive blooms in your garden from May to September and beyond as the blooms gracefully age. Come see and learn about the different species of hydrangeas, how to grow them, when and how to prune these shrubs without losing the blooms! Appropriate companion plantings and garden design ideas will be covered as well.

This class was a big hit last year, please register early!

There will be a variety of Hydrangea plants available for sale the day of the class.

Catered Lunch is included in the fee.

Fee: $65
