

SEASONAL FLOWER ARRANGING AND TASTINGS

with Meg Laughon

Tuesday, July 24th

Each season is unique in what it has to offer for our table decor and kitchen. Four "hands on" classes will be offered to explore what is fresh and new each season from our gardens. Using your container or one that is available to purchase, create a beautiful unique arrangement with the guidance of Meg's expertise and Foxie's abundance of fresh cut flowers. Influenced by Laurie Babcock's cookbook, Seasons to Taste, will be a part of the class discussion. This class will be offered in July, October, and March for further seasonal explorations for the vase and table.

Favorite seasonal plants and shrubs will be for sale at each class for planting in your garden.

Fee includes all food and flowers.

Fee: $100
